FREE SUPPORT FOR THOSE IN DEBT

Debt hits the headlines!

Not a day goes by when there isn't an item on the news about the financial difficulties of individuals, businesses and even countries! Many people in our society are finding themselves short of money to pay their debts due to any one of a number of factors..... unemployment, low wages, increases to the cost of living Debt can rapidly grow as creditors add interest and charges to the original loan. At this time of year the problem becomes even greater as the financial burden of Christmas begins to take effect. If this sounds familiar then read on

The Community Centre for Debt Advice in Staplehurst offers free, confidential, hands-on support and advice to those struggling with the problem of personal debt. Our trained volunteers can offer a sympathetic and understanding ear and then advise on possible routes out of debt. We can communicate with your creditors on your behalf and negotiate reduced payment plans, interest rates and charges. This then gives you the opportunity to begin have a better understanding of your finances, whilst beginning to reduce the amount you owe.

The Community Centre for Debt Advice in Staplehurst has been set up by the local churches and the volunteer advisors offer help to anyone experiencing the trauma of personal debt, regardless of race, religion or any other factor.

If you would like to take advantage of this service please contact us via email or phone (24 hour answer phone), giving details of how we can contact you. We will then arrange an appointment and begin the process of helping you regain control of your finances.
